AVVOCATI E
COMMERCIALISTI

The prohibition on wearing the islamic veil in the workplace: when would this be discriminatory?

The European Court of Justice has recently issued its view on the possibility of employers to prohibit female employees from wearing the Islamic veil and, more generally, visible signs of employees' regligious, philosophical and/or political beliefs in the workplace and during the performance of their work activities.

Download pdf